

Gerard O´Shea, Judging CV -

Born in Dublin, Ireland 1964

I have been involved in Rottweilers since the age of 12. So from the summer of 2017 it will mean I have had Rottweilers for 40 years. After such a long journey I still feel honored and committed to the complete Rottweiler according to the standard.

My judging experience has taken me to the four corners of the world and has taught me to understand that a true quality Rottweiler can win on any “stage”. My judging has taken me to most countries in Europe including the ADRK Germany. Also included are Top specialties in USA, Canada, South Africa, South America, Australia, New Zealand, Russia, Asia and U.K.

With my wife Ia O´Shea we currently breed under the kennel name JUST ASK. And have bred multiple champions and top winning dogs at All breed and Specialty level. Believing in the complete Rottweiler I am very pleased to say we have also produced world class working and military service dogs over a number of years. And most of these dogs have become show champions.

I mostly enjoy judging specialty’s where the judge is allowed and encouraged to describe his or hers findings in each class.

As a profession I get to take my hobby to another level and have worked as a professional lecturer, consultant and coach in Dog Anatomy and movement “Breed specific and all breed”. Show dog coaching specializing in motivation and performance. Dog management privately, large kennels and club level. Lectures in Raising the performance dog.

My lectures and seminars have been successful and welcomed in many countries worldwide. And with so much interaction which such a large range of talented dog people I am lucky to say that my work continues to help me develop as a dog man.

Looking forward meeting you all!
